BOY GOES BEYOND DEPTH AND IS DROWNED IN RIVER

William Williamson, 14-Years-Old, First Swimming Hole Victim

HIS BODY IS RECOVERED

North Charleroi Man Dives
and Finds it Lodged Under
an Old Log--In Bad Place

William Williamson, the 14-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. James Williamson, of McMahon borough, just across the river from North Charleroi, was drowned in the river yesterday, while in bathing. The accident occurred at about 1.40 o'clock and the body was recovered about an hour and a half after by William, Cratty, of North Charleroi, who dived for it. Young Williamson with his brother, Robert, three years his junior, and another boy went to the river, intending to go in swimming. There was a race to see who got in first, and William was in the water before the others had their clothing off. He had barely got out in the water, when he suddenly stepped over an offset and went down. He could not swim, and the other two boys were terrorized. Before they could summon aid the lad was drowned.

People in the vicinity were told of the occurrence by the two youngsters and an immediate search was started. The place was known as a bad hole. Several divers went to work. When Cratty came, he dived two times without finding the body, but on the third time down discovered it lying under a log. He extricated the body and returned to the surface with it. The body was removed to the home.

The Williamson family is well known in and about Monessen. Mr. Williamson is a steel worker in the Pittsburg Steel mill, and little William was employed there as a water boy. It was the third of the family to die since last November, two others having been victims of diphtheria.

MONONGAHELA MAN KILLED BY TRAIN

John Brady, a young man of Monongahela, across the river from Monongahela, was found dead on the railroad track of the P. & L. E. railroad Sunday morning, having been mangled by a train. As the young man was not addicted to the use of intoxicating liquor, some of his friends suspect he was the victim of foul play. A peculiar feature was that young Brady's body was found opposite the spot where his father was drowned in the Monongahela river a year ago.

Worked the "Simps."
The Washington papers state that many attendants at the Hagenbeck-Wallace circus which exhibited at the county seat Saturday were victims of a gang of crooks and sharpers that followed the show. Many lost their "leathers" by pickpockets, while others were short-changed or hit on the flim-flam games that were worked on the side.

Effort to Beat Train is Fatal

Pigeon Creek Man Run Down on Trestle on the
M. & W. Branch

John Donco, a Slavish miner employed at Dunkirk, on the M. & W. branch above Monongahela, was killed by a train near Weaver at about 9 o'clock Sunday night. With two companions Donco was walking on the track and as they approached a trestle a train whistled behind them. Two of the men turned back, but Donco tried to cross the trestle ahead of the train. He was run down and one leg and an arm severed before he was hurled to the ground below. Death followed immediately afterward, and the body was taken to Monongahela. Donco had a wife and three children who had just left for the old country on a visit.

SERIOUSLY INJURED IN FALL FROM WINDOW

Macbeth-Evans Glass Worker Drops From Third Story to the Ground--Is Taken to the Hospital

Frank Polz, aged 45 and single, sustained serious injuries this morning at about 4 o'clock when he fell from a three story window at his room on Fallowfield avenue, near Seventh street. He was removed to the Memorial Hospital, Monongahela, where it is stated he is in a bad condition. Polz rooms at the home of P. J. Deprez. It is supposed that owing to the humidity of the atmosphere, he was sitting at the window this morning early and falling asleep, toppled out of the window. He was unconscious when picked up. The injured man is a steel plate printer at Macbeth-Evans chimney factory. His worst injuries, it is stated, are about the head, although he is much bruised about the hips and other parts of the body. He suffered concussion of the brain.

TO RESCUE MINE BILL

Hot Fight Promised on Feeney Measure
in Senate

ATTORNEYS PUT IN KNOCKS

One of the fights of the Senate in the Legislature at Harrisburg today will be an effort to rescue the Feeney bill for the registration of miners in the bituminous field. Representatives Feeney put the measure through the House last week and it appeared promptly from committee in the senate. Thursday, however, when nobody was looking, the bill got the boot by recommitment, the purpose being to let it die in committee. Several attorneys for coal operators had put in knocks but there was no public exhibition of hostility and the Senate record of what was done makes nobody in particular responsible, but leaves some indication that a quiet strangulation was intended. The record of the Charleroi miner member has been so good that he had been promised support for this bill from many sources, some of them of the highest in both administrative and legislative circles. No one has put up on the record of either the House or the Senate any substantial reason why the bill should not pass but it is said that some of the corporation Senators have been persuaded that the registration of miners is bad because the United Mine Workers have been vigorously championing it.

This is the same bill which was the subject of a speech by John Mitchell in Charleroi, when he made an address here at the Fourth of July demonstration. At that time John K. Tener, candidate for Governor, declared he would advocate the passage of the bill if he were elected in November. He has not changed his position since then and is not likely to do so. Senator Judson, of Washington, is in favor of the bill. It raises no new legal questions, because it is practically a copy of a law now in effect as to the anthracite field. One of the chief objections to it is that in case of a strike, or any other sudden demand for mine labor, the operators would be forbidden to run in inexperienced men to get out the coal. The whole intent of the act is to provide that a coal miner must know his job before he can go into a mine. The act would entail but little additional expenses to the State and is not opposed because of any expenditure it involves.

SECOND CHILD TO DIE WITHIN WEEK
Frank Joseph Martinet, aged 2 years, 3 months and 29 days, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Martinet, of Fallowfield avenue, died this morning at 4 o'clock, from measles and pneumonia, from which he had been suffering for some time. The death was the second to occur within five days, a younger child having died last Thursday. The funeral will be held on Tuesday, and interment will be in Calvary cemetery.

MUCH INTEREST IN THE CANTATA
School Children to Present "The Jolly Picnic Party" as Benefit
Everything points to a big success for the cantata to be held tonight and Tuesday night by school children under the direction of Prof. I. T. Daniel for the benefit of the picnic fund. There are a large number of pupils in the cantata, and it is said they are well prepared for the proper rendition of the affair.

Fills Every Want.
The Busy Bee Restaurant fills every want in the restaurant line. Under the new management it is making lots of new friends every day. Frequently one hears traveling men on the trains recommending the Busy Bee Restaurant at Charleroi to their friends. They do this because they know that Busy Bee is a modern and the best place to eat in Charleroi. And the charges are within the reach of the slimmest pocket book. The service is unsurpassed and the food palatable and digestible. 23416

Hibernians Adopt Important
Resolutions At County Convention Here

Protesting against the divorce evil of today and the alliance between the United States and England, the annual county convention of the Ancient Order of Hibernians was held at Turner Hall, Charleroi, Sunday. About 30 visitors were present, including delegates from McDonald, Cicil, Donora, and Monongahela. A resolution was proposed and adopted to effect that Congressmen from the various districts be asked to use their influence against the proposed alliance between England and America. A resolution was also adopted condemning the growing divorce evil. The next convention will be held in McDonald. The delegates and visitors took supper at the Hotel Myford.

Field Meet
IS WON BY CHARLEROI

High School Games Bitterly Contested Saturday

SOME RECORDS BROKEN

Charleroi High School athletes won their fifth consecutive field meet Saturday afternoon, from valley High Schools. The points were, Charleroi, 64 3-4; Monessen, 59, and Monongahela 1 3-4. Three local High School records were broken, all by Charleroi men. These were in the pole vault, Lloyd Carson, securing a record at 9 feet 7 inches, and in the 100 and 50 yard dashes. In the 100 Blythe broke his own record from last year of 11 seconds, running the distance in 10 4-5 seconds. He also broke the 50 yard record held by him. He reduced this from 6 to 5 4-5 seconds. George S. Might, of Charleroi, refereed the meet. Summaries:

Standing broad jump--Newhouse, Monessen, first; Mitchell, Monessen, second; Myers, Monessen, third; Ewing, Monongahela, fourth; distance, 8 feet 11 3-4 inches. 50-yard dash--Blythe, Charleroi, first; Mitchell, Monessen, second; Nutt, Charleroi, third; Myers, Monessen, fourth. Time, 5 4-5 seconds. Running high jump--Kehlenbeck, Monessen, and H. Carson, Charleroi, tied first, Monongahela and Charleroi tied for third. Height, 4 feet 11 inches. 440 yard dash--Primas, Charleroi, first; Schafer, Charleroi, second; Ferron, Monessen, third; Herron, Monessen, fourth. Time, 59 3-5 seconds. (Continued on page four.)

Arrest of Railroad Detectives Makes Matters Serious

AT WEST BROWNSVILLE

Trouble Said to Have Originated Over Employment
of Call Boys

As a result of some disorder at the West Brownsville railroad yards, Saturday, Sheriff John C. Murphy has been importuned by the Pennsylvania railroad company, to lend his aid in preventing further trouble there. Saturday night and Sunday five deputies sent out by Sheriff Murphy were on the scene of the expected trouble and the sheriff kept in close touch, himself, with the affairs there.

Among the striking railroad shopmen were the Brownsville men, whom it is said were not organized until organizers from the Pitscan district made their appearance. A number of new men have been imported, it is said, by the railroad company to operate the shops.

The situation which caused the railroad people to call upon the sheriff for aid reached a head when on Friday the two call boys at Brownsville Junction quit work in sympathy with the shop men's strike. The call boys are employed in summoning crews of extra trains sent out from the yards and their duty is an important one, their absence partially tying up a large amount of freight traffic.

Early Saturday morning in the absence of the regular call boys, a railroad detective accompanied by nine other railroad officers as guards performed the duties of call boys. The ten men after getting within the boundaries of West Brownsville were arrested by Chief of Police Pegg and taken before Justice of the Peace S. E. Eckles on charges of carrying concealed weapons. After showing their credentials as officers they were discharged.

Saturday evening the company appealed to the sheriff and he sent out the deputies to look over the ground. All was peaceful during the hours the deputies remained.

MRS. OHLIGER DIES SUNDAY

Mrs. Annie Ohliger, 40 years, 4 months and 24 days old, died at her home 703 Washington avenue, Sunday at 7.55 o'clock. She had been sick for about a year. Funeral arrangements have not been completed. Besides the husband two sons survive. Mrs. Ohliger was a well known woman. She was a member of the Methodist Episcopal church, and was held in high esteem by all who knew her. Interment will be made in Homewood cemetery Pittsburgh.

A SEVERE BLOW.

Through fire losses during the past few months the industrial and business interests of Charleroi have received a severe blow. First came the fire at the Charleroi Foundry and Machine company's plant during the winter, which cut out operations at
that plant to the extent that the pay roll there has never yet resumed its normal proportions. Now comes the destruction of the Charleroi Coal Works tippie, which will it is estimated deduct at least $100,000 from the
ovage fund of Charleroi.

There is nothing to be derived from the narration of these catastro-phies except to impress the importance of every industrial concern, big or little, to the community. Any concern that pays wages to one or more people is an important factor
to the community. It should be the policy of every interest to promote and encourage the home business interests that afford employment.
There is not today enough work for all the wage earners who live in Charleroi, and those who must go outside to seek employment cannot give themselves or the town the full benefit of their efforts. If the small plants and stores are not employing

as many people as they did a year
ago, the town is going backward in a material way.

THE PESKY-FLY.

With more attention paid to the elimination of the house fly by the health and sanitary officers of cities
and towns, one of the greatest sources of disease in summer time will have been removed. While the fly
has always been considered a necessary evil, investigation has demonstrated that like all pests and nuisances it can be eliminated, and its presence is entirely at the volition of humanity. The fly is here to annoy us because we contribute to its propagation and presence.

The house fly is most essentially a filth insect. It breeds and propagates in stable refuse, garbage and other filth. Where this is lacking the fly is also lacking. In England a movement was started a number of years ago to eliminate the house fly
and it is stated that the entire island is now almost entirely comparatively free from this pest. Charleroi
visitors at Chautauqua last season
where between 30,000 and 40,000
people congregate, noticed that this resort was comparatively free from
flies, from the fact that no stables
are permitted within the grounds,
and strict sanitary precautions are exact. If no stables were permitted in Charleroi or they were segregated, the fly nuisance could likewise
be abolished here. This is the way to eliminate the fly, and when people
take the necessary steps, this nuisance will no longer be an annual plague.

PICKED UP IN PASSING

One of Chicago's big mail order
supply houses cleared, in profits, in 1910 $7,000,000, so it will be seen that they are not in business merely
for the accommodation of the public,
but listen, says H. F. Broadbent in the McLaugh, Kansas Times.

How do these houses reach the people?

Isn't it by advertising?
Yes, you will have to admit or expose your ignorance.

Country merchants will frankly admit that this is the way it is done,
and yet, withhold their advertisements
from the local paper, which stands
between them and mail order house
and allow the big concern to talk to their customers in print day in and day out through the magazines and
farm journals, and never say a word
in their own defense or in support of their goods or prices through their

medium, the home paper, which is
as eagerly read by their customers
as are the magazines carrying the
advertisements of the mail order
houses—continually.

When country merchants wake up
to the fact that every dollar's worth
of goods sold by mail-order concerns
is the direct result of continuous advertising, then take the same methods, systematically and persistently
they will soon be selling the goods
used by the people in their territory
and the M. O. concerns will be forced to quit business for lack of support.

Country merchants have a system
of dropping in and out, usually with a little "two-for-five" ad., absent of
prices, often descriptive of goods out
of season at "cut prices," while the mail-order concerns will carry a liberal sized advertisement, prices and goods reasonable; the journal carrying the advertisement finds its way into the homes of the local man's customers and is there compared with
the advertisement in the home paper.
If any, and right there the decision
is made of whom to buy. The M. O.
house has a new and tempting offer
every time the journal is received; but
the home merchant allows the home
paper to enter the same homes and
is represented only occasionally.
When business becomes dull the M.
O. house jumps into the journals with larger and more attractive ads. than
at other times; when business gets dull the home merchant drops out all
his ads. in the local paper, leaving it
all to the mail order fellows and his customers.

Not one man in ten in business in
small towns knows the value of advertising, or how or when to do it,
and why—simply because they do not give this most important matter any attention, and just as long as they do
not, just so long will the mail order
houses prosper and pile up their millions under the nose of the retailer,
and 95 per cent of the latter go broke annually.

COMMENCEMENT AT EAST PIKE RUN

The commencement exercises of
the East Pike Run township high
school will be held in the Methodist Episcopal church, California, on the evening of June 1. East Pike Run
township has the distinction of being
one of the townships in which a nine months' term is taught in the high school. Thomas L. Wolflock is the superintendent of the schools of the
township has the distinction of being
principal of the high school.

The graduates are: Isaphenia Harris, Winonia Coatsworth, Eugene
Lutes, Carrie Patterson, Raymond
Coatsworth, Isabella Harris, Bessie
George, Mabel Smith, Roger Williams
Eddie Hasson, Fred Harris.

The East Pike Run township high
school was established in the year
1908, and had enrolled the past term 13 juniors and 13 freshmen. It is one of the flourishing high schools of the county and has good prospects
for a large class next year.

LUTHERANS WIN FROM ALLEGHENY

In a well-played and interesting
game on Saturday afternoon the Lutheran team defeated the Allegheny
High School nine 7 to 6. The High School boys took the lead early in the game proving themselves good batters, but through Hartland's
steady pitching and some timely bingles the Lutherans finally overcame their lead and won out. Ralph Miller made a splendid catch in middle field, Steck did sensational work
at short-stop and the Mason brothers
played well for Allegheny High School, also Breier at third base.
The score:
Lutherans 1021120x-7

ELDORA PARK POPULAR PLACE FOR SUNDAY REST

Many Charleroi people as well as others from up and down the river
took refuge from the intense heat
Sunday by visiting Eldora park,
where the green grass, the shady
grove and the cool breezes afforded
a delightful change. The sacred concerts in the afternoon and evening
by Jenkins' orchestra were also well
attended and was highly appreciated.
The park season has started with a rush. A large crowd attended the Saturday night dance, and indications are that this popular resort will make a season's record.

Liquor Repealers Fail.

The Klump bill repealing the special prohibitory act of West Newton, was not taken up in the House
at Harrisburg last week, and consequently fails. The same fate has overtaken the Bentley bill repealing
the prohibitory law applying to Midland, Beaver county.

Underwent Operation.

Frank Devinney, of Belle Vernon,
who is well known in Charleroi, was taken to the McKeesport hospital
last week where he was operated upon for an intestinal obstruction. At last reports he was getting along
all right.

Handled Big Crowd.

During the exhibition of the Hagen-

Saturday, the Pittsburg Railways
company carried 14,920 circus going passengers.

Made Him Feel Older.

The late Archbishop Ryan illuminated every subject he discussed, and once at a banquet in Philadelphia he illuminated strangely the subject of old age.

"We ourselves," he said, "never seem
to grow old. Our hearts remain young,
and even our faces in the glass don't look old, as do our friends' faces. One day on Chestnut street a very withered
and bent graybeard accosted me.
"Why," he said, "don't you remember
me? We were classmates at Carlow college."
Archbishop Ryan paused, then added
whimsically:

"I was taken aback. I was shocked.
I knew he was my age, but I had no
idea I was his."—Washington Star.

While They Detect.

"Every criminal is sure to leave a number of clues behind him."
"Yes, indeed," replied the old police officer. "I suspect that some of them
leave as many as possible behind so as
to keep the detectives theorizing while
they catch a steamboat."—Washington

First Flying Ambulance.
 A valued servant and friend of the great Napoleon, Dominique Larrey,
 first established that system of "flying ambulances," which carried the wounded to the rear almost as soon as disabled. The staff numbered about 340 men with four heavy and twelve light two and four wheeled ambulances to each division. Napoleon reviewed this arm of the service with
 the greatest interest and once exclaimed to Larrey: "Your work is one of the most important conceptions of our age.
 It will suffice for your reputation."
 For the Egyptian campaign Larrey secured the services of 800 qualified surgeons in addition to the regular force.
 At Alexandria General Figueres was severely wounded, and on his recovery
 wished to present Napoleon with a splendid Damascus saber. "Yes," said
 the emperor, "I accept in order to give
 it the surgeon in chief, by whose exertions your life has been spared."
 This saber, engraved with the words
 "Aboukir" and "Larrey," was taken from the great surgeon by the Prussians at Waterloo.—Charles Winslow Hall in National Magazine.

The Horrors of Thirst.
 In the oasis of Mogara, says L. Dow
 Covington in the Wide World Magazine, we had a first experience of the desert traveler's great enemy—thirst.
 We were seated in front of a Bedouin
 chief's tent, our two baby camels enjoying their first drink of water since
 they had left Cairo, when, from across
 a sand dune, a Bedouin came staggering and tottering toward us. His eyes were bloodshot, his lips twice their natural size, while his tongue, blue and dry, hung out of his mouth. Evidently he had lost himself, had wandered
 around for days in search of water
 and had stumbled upon the oasis in the very nick of time. To allow him to drink would have been his death.
 In spite of his frantic struggles, he
 was held by four men, while a fifth allowed a few drops of water to trickle down his throat. It was as though he were a redhot boiler which would have to be allowed to cool off
 before being filled if an accident was to be avoided.

Objected to Publicity.
 Old Brother Brown had been approached several times by the colored deacons of his church and asked to pay his church dues. He had promised to "pay up" just as soon as he sold a calf which he owned. Several months later he sold the calf. The next Sunday morning at service the congregation sang the old familiar hymn:
 The half has never been told
 Of life so full and free.
 Brother Brown, somewhat deaf and conscious of his failure to pay his dues, understood the words to be:
 The calf has never been sold,
 But when it's sold he'll pay.
 When the hymn was finished the old
 colored man, very indignant, arose
 and said:
 "Bredren and sistahs, I has sold dat
 ca'f and beh's yo' ten dollahs! But I didn't ca' about de whole ch'rch sing-
 in' about it."—National Monthly.

A Costly Tuft of Feathers.
 On the apex of the crown worn by the Prince of Wales on special occasions is a curious feather, or, rather,
 tuft of feathers, the top of which is adorned with a gold thread. The value
 of this feather is estimated at $50,000,
 and it has the distinction of being the only one of its kind in human possession. Twenty years passed after the first hunter set out to procure the feather before it was attained, and
 during that period more than a dozen hunters had lost their lives in the quest. The costly tuft is of periwak
 feathers, and the extraordinary danger incurred in procuring it was due to the fact that the periwak, for some unknown reason, is to be found only
 in dense jungles in which tigers make their lair.—Chicago Tribune.

Turning the Turtle
 Turtle hunting is not without excitement. The method of capture consists of the simple act of turning the turtle on its back. Once in this position it is quite helpless. Its only defense is to cover its cap with sand
 thrown up by the powerful front legs
 or flippers. These are brought into action in an instant, and woe betide
 the captor who has his eyes and mouth
 open at the moment, for the sand is buried with great force. When turned over the captive is dragged up the beach to above high water mark, and this is no easy task, for it weighs
 about four hundredweight.

Premeditated.
 "And why do you claim that it was
 with malice aforethought that the automobile defendant ran down the complainant?"
 "On the morning it happened, your honor, I heard him say that he was going to take out his new auto and see
 if he could not run across a few people he knew."—Houston Post.

A Giddy Girl.
 "Is your daughter of a practical turn
 of mind?"
 "No; she is very frivolous. Wants to take cooking lessons instead of perfecting her game of bridge."—Exchange.

His Honest Face.
 "Anyway, he has an honest face."
 "Honest? You surprise me."
 "Yes; it's the only honest thing about
 him. It shows how dishonest he really is."—Life.

PURE FOOD LABELS.
 They Were Used In Palestine as Early
 as the Year 850 B. C.
 Professor George A. Reisner of Harvard university discovered among
 some specimens of earliest Hebrew
 writing in the excavations of the city
 of Samaria, in Palestine, a most interesting record of the first pure food laws in history. He also found ancient writings dealing with the first instance on record of the keeping of wines in a government warehouse under bond.
 Dating back to the period of King Ahab, 850 B. C., these inscriptions are considered to be one of the greatest finds of the Harvard Palestinian expeditions which delved into the city of Ahab and Omri for three years. They found labels on wine and oil jars.
 These mention the year in which the wine was laid down in the cellars of
 the palace storehouse, and they state
 the vineyard from which the wine
 came. Important facts that are recognized equally well by vintners today.
 On the oil jars the label runs, "A jar
 of pure oil," with the mention of the district from which the oil came. The bits of pottery on which the descriptions were written were not parts of the jars, but were evidently intended to be attached to the necks of the receptacles, just as are labels or seals
 at the present time.—New York World.

WOOL, SILK AND LINEN.
 Tests That Will Determine the Quality
 of the Fabrics.
 If you wish to find out whether the
 material sold to you as all wool or all silk is really so make a 5 per cent solution of caustic potash and in this boil your sample of silk or wool. If the entire sample is consumed in the boiling your material is what it pi-
 tends to be; if there is a residue the residue is cotton. The caustic solution
 consumes the animal fibers.
 If you wish to find out whether the
 silk that seems to be heavy silk is weighted with mineral burn the sample and the ash will show you how much mineral weighting there is. The pure silk will be wholly consumed.
 In buying supposed linen goods of toweling or suiting, dip your sample
 into concentrated sulphuric acid for
 two minutes and wash it out carefully.
 The cotton will have been consumed,
 the linen will have resisted the action
 of the acid. This test is one that should be made with precaution, as vitriol is not a thing to be tampered
 with.—Mary Heaton Vorse in Success Magazine.

Right and Wrong Exercise.
 The word "exercise" covers a multitude of sins. It is a very loose term used for any form of physical exertion, be it sweeping out a factory,
 walking home from the office or lifting
 dumbbells. To say "Exercise is beneficial" is a very inaccurate remark and a very dangerous belief. It is necessary to distinguish between right and wrong exercise. As often as not big muscles in arms, chest or legs are a calamity, for they actually shorten life
 unless the vital organs are proportion-
 ately developed to take care of them.
 Men are constantly wearing out their hearts and arteries with some form of violent work they call "exercise." If continued they would die of arteriosclerosis. A pretty good general rule
 for these men to go by is to take no
 form of exercise after they are grown up that they cannot keep on with until they are old men.—J. Edmund Thompson in National Magazine.

Needed the Money Badly.
 A newspaper man of Washington
 was approached one morning by a friend who wanted to borrow $5. The newspaper man, assuming an expression of great sorrow, pulled 20 cents
 out of his pocket and remarked:
 "I'm sorry, old man, but you've
 struck me just before pay day, and I'm broke."
 Having made this crafty excuse,
 he, mentally speaking, pinned a gold medal on himself for having evaded the prospective borrower.
 "When is your pay day?" asked the friend.
 "Tomorrow afternoon," replied the
 newspaper man.
 "All right," said the friend. "I'll come around then."
 And he did.—Popular Magazine.

Merely a Test Case.
 A burly negro came to the doctor of
 a West African missionary settlement,
 dragging his reluctant wife with him.
 "Doctor, pull one of my wife's teeth
 out," said he.
 The doctor examined the woman's
 mouth and found only sound teeth.
 "Oh, that makes no difference," said
 the interested negro. "Tull one any-
 way. If it doesn't hurt her too much then you can pull my tooth that is aching."—Success Magazine.

The Borrowing Neighbor.
 "Say, John, yer haven't been over ter
 my home since my birthday gatherin',
 jest a year ago termorrer."
 "It ain't that I have hard feelin's
 ag'in you, but you have so confounded
 many things what belongs ter me that when I come it kind o' makes me
 homesick."—Pittsburg Times.

Mistaken Identity.
 Walking down St. James' street,
 Lord Chelmsford was accosted by a stranger, who exclaimed, "Mr. Birch,
 I believe?"
 "If you believe that, sir, you'll believe anything," replied the ex-chancellor as he passed on.—"A Book About Lawyers," by Jefferson.

There is a caution which may defeat
 itself; there are many crimes in our life when safety lies in courage.

A Helpless Invalid

Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

A woman who is sick and suffering, and won't at least try a medicine which has the record of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, is, it would almost seem, to blame for her own wretchedness. Read what this woman says:

Richmond, Mo. — "When my second daughter was eighteen months old I was pronounced a hopeless invalid by specialists. I had a consultation of doctors and they said I had a severe case of ulceration. I was in bed for ten weeks, had sinking spells, and was pronounced to be in a dangerous condition. My father insisted that we try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and brought me six bottles. I soon began to improve, and before it had all been taken I was as well and strong as ever—my friends hardly recognized me so great was the change."—Mrs. Woodson Branstetter, Richmond, Mo.

There are literally hundreds of thousands of women in the United States who have been benefited by this famous old remedy, which was produced from roots and herbs over thirty years ago by a woman to relieve woman's suffering.

Read what another woman says:—

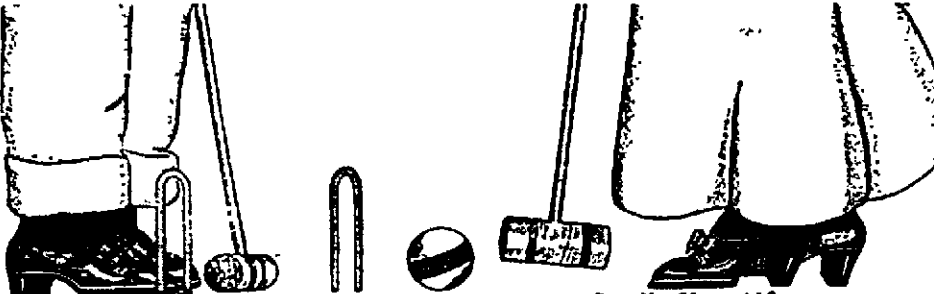

Jonesboro, Texas. — "I have used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for myself and daughter, and consider it unequalled for all female diseases. I would not be without it for anything. I wish every mother in America could be persuaded to use it as I would be less suffering among our sex then. I am always glad to speak a word of praise for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and you are at liberty to use this testimonial."—Mrs. James T. Lawrence, Jonesboro, Texas.

Since we guarantee that all testimonials which we publish are genuine, is it not fair to suppose that if Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had the virtue to help these women it will help any other woman who is suffering from the same trouble?

For 30 years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills. No sick woman does justice to herself who will not try this famous medicine. Made exclusively from roots and herbs, and has thousands of cures to its credit.

If the slightest trouble appears which you do not understand, write to Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass., for her advice—it is free and always helpful.

"LOOK OUT FOR THE CARS"

DO YOU know of anyone
who is old enough to
read, who has not seen that
sign at a railroad crossing?

If everyone has seen it at some time or other, then why doesn't the railroad let the sign rot away? Why does the railroad company continue to keep these signs at every crossing?

Maybe you think, Mr. Merchant, "Most everybody knows my store, I don't have to advertise."

Your store and your goods need more advertising than the railroads need do to warn people to "Look Out for the Cars."

Nothing is ever completed in the advertising world.

The Department Stores are a very good example—they are continually advertising—and they are continually doing a good business.

If it pays to run a few ads round about Christmas time, it certainly will pay you to run advertisements about all the time.

It's just business, that's all, to

A Terrifying Story.

When the French artist Benjamin Constant was traveling in Morocco he was invited by the sultan to present himself at court at Fez. The painter's first thought was in regard to his costume. "Court" in Europe was one thing; in Morocco it was likely to prove something different. There was nothing to do, however, but to wear his ordinary evening clothes. He was ignorant of the fact that the Moors look upon black garments as very vulgar, and it was only after his arrival that he learned his mistake. The courtiers smiled openly; worst of all, they sneered. The painter was a man of hasty temper, and suddenly, nettled by their insolence, he closed his opera hat and sprang it open in the faces of the jeering crowd. They scattered, yelling with surprise and fear. The sultan heard the noise and demanded the cause. After he had seen and examined the wonderful hat he gave this oracular opinion: "If I had lived a hundred years in your country and adopted all your other customs I could never have brought myself to set on my head so hideous a contrivance as that!"

Painfully Explicit.

The proprietor of a certain hotel in Europe has posted up the following warning to his clients:

"Gentlemen who come in this hotel not say anything about their meals they will be charged for, and if they should say beforehand that they are going out to breakfast or dinner, and if they say that they not have anything to eat they will be charged, or unless they bring it to the notice of the manager, and should they want not to say anything, they must order the manager for, and not any one else, and unless they bring it to the notice of the manager, they will be charged for the least things not, according to hotel rate. And no fuss will be allowed afterward about it, and nothing will be allowed to deduct anything out of it."

After this explicit information there surely could be no excuse for misunderstanding.—Boston Globe.

Surprising the Bullock.

In times of crisis and worry a kind word has been known to have surprisingly good results. The unexpectedness of such a word is perhaps the secret of its force. A late book, "On the Wool Track," backs the moral with an anecdote.

A team was working on the Broken Hill road, and a bullock—the Beelzebub of the team—had gone obstinate, and the coach was passing. The whip was swishing, and some apt remarks were just forming on the back of the teamster's tongue when he caught sight of a clerical hat on the front seat and just in time thought better of it. He coughed politely.

"Ahem—Strawberry," he said, "proceed."

To his obvious astonishment Strawberry proceeded.

The Indian's Vision.

More or less wonderful accounts have from time to time been given of the powers of vision possessed by savage races. During a British anthropological expedition to the Torres strait the visual faculty of the natives was carefully tested, and from these tests the conclusion was reached that the excellence of vision shown by the savages has a psychological origin—that is to say, it arises from knowing what to look for. When the civilized man acquires familiarity with the environment he can see as far as they can. Thus the power of an Indian to tell the sex of a deer at such a distance that distinguishing features like antlers were invisible was found to rest upon his knowledge of the peculiar gait of the male deer.—Scientific American.

Wondrous Tact.

As an example of graciousness and tact Matthew White tells in Munsey's Magazine of a London clergyman who was called on to address an audience of actors. Alluding to the better social status of the players, the clergyman said that in former days it was sometimes customary to brand them as vagabonds and bore a hole in their ears with an awl, that the citizens might thus be forewarned. "And who knows," the clergyman added, "but that it is a survival of an endeavor to hide this mark of indignity that causes some of the actors even today to wear their hair long?"

Bottles and Rags.

"Bottles and rags, bottles and rags!" called out a rag and bone man as he piled his calling.
"Why do you always put these words together?" asked a passerby.
"Because, madam," replied the man, courteously touching his hat, "wherever you find bottles you find rags!"—London Family Herald.

A Shellfish Thought.

"Funny, isn't it?"
"That what?"
"That when a fellow's affairs have reached the blue point he never declares that the world is his oyster!"—Judge.

The Ruthless Razor.

Lady Customer (in furniture shop)—What has become of those lovely sideboards you had when I was last here?
Salesman (smirking)—I shaved 'em off, madam.

Sympathy.

Cora—Have you seen my new photographs, dear? Every one says they look exactly like me. Dora—What a shame! Can't you get another sitting?

CHARLEROI MAY HAVE HOSPITAL

Ex-Assemblyman Shows How by Old Law Institution May be Secured

Former Assemblyman Edward Callaghan, who represented Westmoreland county in the Legislative session of 1887, calls attention to a method by which Charleroi or this community can get a hospital. This is by the act No. 265, enacted that session, which is known as the "Cottage Hospital Law," of which Mr. Callaghan was one of the prime movers, and whose influence and work materially helped to enact it into a law.

This act provides for the selection of sites and the erection of State Hospitals in the bituminous and semi-bituminous coal regions of Pennsylvania. For this purpose a commission is appointed to select a site, which must be donated and deeded to the State, with the approval of the Governor.

When this is done the State appropriates $60,000 for the erection of the necessary buildings thereon. Once erected, the hospital may be maintained like any other hospital, by state appropriation, donations, and the receipts of pay patients, although the provisions are that injured persons and emergency cases shall have preference over pay patients.

There are several of these cottage hospitals in the bituminous regions of the State, one of which is at Connellsville. Mr. Callaghan is anxious to see a movement started to secure a hospital for Charleroi, now that the Charleroi-Monessen Hospital is no more. He will gladly attend any meeting of citizens called for that purpose and explain the "Cottage Hospital" act, which he helped to draft and enact into law.

COAL COMPANY

IS GRATEFUL

General Supt. Jesse K. Johnston desires to thank the Charleroi Fire Department for their loyal and efficient services at the tippie fire Saturday morning. BOY GOES BEYOND DEPTH AND IS DROWNED IN RIVER

William Williamson, 14-Years-Old, First Swimming Hole Victim

HIS BODY IS RECOVERED

North Charleroi Man Dives and Finds it Lodged Under an Old Log--In Bad Place

William Williamson, the 14-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. James Williamson, of McElhannon borough, just across the river from North Charleroi, was drowned in the river yesterday, while in bathing. The accident occurred at about 1:40 o'clock and the body was recovered about an hour and a half after by William Cratty, of North Charleroi, who dived for it. Young Williamson with his brother, Robert, three years his junior, and another boy went to the river, intending to go in swimming. There was a race to see who got in first, and William was in the water before the others had their clothing off. He had barely got out in the water, when he suddenly stepped over an offset and went down. He could not swim, and the other two boys were terrified. Before they could summon aid the lad was drowned.

People in the vicinity were told of the occurrence by the two youngsters and an immediate search was started. The place was known as a bad hole. Several divers went to work. When Cratty came, he dived two times without finding the body, but on the third time down discovered it lying under a log. He extricated the body and returned to the surface with it. The body was removed to the home.

The Williamson family is well known in and about Monessen. Mr. Williamson is a steel worker in the Pittsburgh Steel mill, and little William was employed there as a water boy. It was the third of the family to die since last November, two others having been victims of diphtheria.

MONONGAHELA MAN KILLED BY TRAIN

John Brady, a young man of Monaca, across the river from Monongahela, was found dead on the railroad track of the P. & L. E. railroad Sunday morning, having been mangled by a train. As the young man was not addicted to the use of intoxicating liquor, some of his friends suspect he was the victim of foul play. A peculiar feature was that young Brady's body was found opposite the spot where his father was drowned in the Monongahela river a year ago.

Worked the "Sims." The Washington papers state that many attendants at the Hagenbeck-Wallace circus which exhibited at the county seat Saturday were victims of a gang of crooks and sharpers that followed the show. Many lost their "leathers" by pickpockets, while others were short-changed or but on the flim-flam games that were worked on the side.

Pigeon Creek Man Run Down on Trestle on the M. & W. Branch

John Donco, a Slavish miner employed at Dunkirk, on the M. & W. branch above Monongahela, was killed by a train near Weaver at about 9 o'clock Sunday night. With two companions Donco was walking on the track and as they approached a trestle a train whistled behind them. Two of the men turned back, but Donco tried to cross the trestle ahead of the train. He was run down and one leg and an arm severed before he was hurled to the ground below. Death followed immediately afterward, and the body was taken to Monongahela. Donco had a wife and three children who had just left for the old country on a visit.

SERIOUSLY INJURED IN FALL FROM WINDOW

Macbeth-Evans Glass Worker Drops From Third Story to the Ground--Is Taken to the Hospital

Frank Polz, aged 45 and single, sustained serious injuries this morning at about 4 o'clock when he fell from a three story window at his room on Fallowfield avenue, near Second street. He was removed to the Memorial Hospital, Monongahela, where it is stated he is in a bad condition. Polz rooms at the home of P. J. Deprez. It is supposed that owing to the humidity of the atmosphere he was sitting at the window this morning early and falling asleep, toppled out of the window. He was unconscious when picked up. The injured man is a steel plate factory. His worst injuries, it is stated, are about the head, although he is much bruised about the hips and other parts of the body. He suffered concussion of the brain.

Hot Fight Promised on Feeney Measure in Senate

ATTORNEYS PUT IN KNOCKS

One of the fights of the Senate in the Legislature at Harrisburg today will be an effort to rescue the Feeney bill for the registration of miners in the bituminous field. Representatives Feeney put the measure through the House last week and it appeared promptly from committee in the senate. Thursday, however, when nobody was looking, the bill got the boot by recommitment, the purpose being to let it die in committee. Several attorneys for coal operators had put in knocks but there was no public exhibition of hostility and the Senate record of what was done makes nobody in particular responsible, but leaves some indication that a quiet strangulation was intended. The record of the Charleroi miner member has been so good that he had been promised support for this bill from many sources, some of them of the highest in both administrative and legislative circles. No one has put up on the record of either the House or the Senate any substantial reason why the bill should not pass but it is said that some of the corporation Senators have been persuaded that the registration of miners is bad because the United Mine Workers have been vigorously championing it.

This is the same bill which was the subject of a speech by John Mitchell in Charleroi, when he made an address here at the Fourth of July demonstration. At that time John K. Tener, candidate for Governor, declared he would advocate the passage of the bill if he were elected in November. He has not changed his position since then and is not likely to do so.

Senator Judson, of Washington, is in favor of the bill. It raises no new legal questions, because it is practically a copy of a law now in effect as to the anthracite field. One of the chief objections to it is that in case of a strike, or any other sudden demand for mine labor, the operators would be forbidden to run in inexperienced men to get out the coal. The whole intent of the act is to provide that a coal miner must know his job before he can go into a mine. The act would entail but little additional expenses to the State and is not opposed because of any expenditure it involves.

Hibernians Adopt Important Resolutions At County Convention Here

Protesting against the divorce evil of today and the alliance between the United States and England, the annual county convention of the Ancient Order of Hibernians was held at Turner Hall, Charleroi, Sunday. About 80 visitors were present, including delegates from McDonald, Cecil, Donora, and Monongahela. A resolution was proposed and adopted to effect that Congressmen from the various districts be asked to use their influence against the proposed alliance between England and America. A resolution was also adopted condemning the growing divorce evil. The next convention will be held in McDonald. The delegates and visitors took supper at the Hotel Myford.

FIELD MEET IS WON BY CHARLEROI

High School Games Bitterly Contested Saturday

SOME RECORDS BROKEN

Charleroi High School athletes won their fifth consecutive field meet Saturday afternoon, from valley High Schools. The points were, Charleroi, 64 3-4; Monessen, 59, and Monongahela 1 2-4. Three local High School records were broken, all by Charleroi men. These were in the pole vault, Lloyd Carson, securing a record at 9 feet 7 inches, and in the 100 and 50 yard dashes. In the 100 Blythe broke his own record from last year of 11 seconds, running the distance in 10 4-5 seconds. He also broke the 50 yard record held by him. He reduced this from 6 to 5 4-5 seconds. George S. Might, of Charleroi, refereed the meet. Summaries:

Standing broad jump—Newhouse, Monessen, first; Mitchell, Monessen, second; Myers, Monessen, third; Ewing, Monongahela, fourth; distance, 8 feet 11 3-4 inches.

Arrest of Railroad Detectives Makes Matters Serious

AT WEST BROWNSVILLE

Trouble Said to Have Originated Over Employment of Call Boys

As a result of some disorder at the West Brownsville railroad yards, Saturday, Sheriff John C. Murphy has been importuned by the Pennsylvania railroad company, to lend his aid in preventing further trouble there Saturday night and Sunday five deputies sent out by Sheriff Murphy were on the scene of the expected trouble and the sheriff kept in close touch, himself, with the affairs there.

Among the striking railroad shopmen were the Brownsville men, whom it is said were not organized until organizers from the Pitcan district made their appearance. A number of new men have been imported, it is said, by the railroad company to operate the shops.

The situation which caused the railroad people to call upon the sheriff for aid reached a head when on Friday the two call boys at Brownsville Junction quit work in sympathy with the shop men's strike. The call boys are employed in summoning crews of extra trains sent out from the yards and their duty is an important one, their absence practically tying up a large amount of freight traffic.

Early Saturday morning in the absence of the regular call boys, a railroad detective accompanied by nine other railroad officers as guards performed the duties of call boys. The ten men after getting within the boundaries of West Brownsville were arrested by Chief of Police Pegg and taken before Justice of the Peace S. E. Eckles on charges of carrying concealed weapons. After showing their credentials as officers they were discharged.

Saturday evening the company appealed to the sheriff and he sent out the deputies to look over the ground. All was peaceful during the hours the deputies remained.

benefit of their efforts. If the small plants and stores are not employing as many people as they did a year ago, the town is going backward in a material way.

THE PESKY-FLY.

With more attention paid to the elimination of the house fly by the health and sanitary officers of cities and towns, one of the greatest sources of disease in summer time will have been removed. While the fly has always been considered a necessary evil, investigation has demonstrated that like all pests and nuisances it can be eliminated, and its presence is entirely at the volition of humanity. The fly is here to annoy us because we contribute to its propagation and presence.

The house fly is most essentially a filth insect. It breeds and propagates in stable refuse, garbage and other filth. Where this is lacking the fly is also lacking. In England a movement was started a number of years ago to eliminate the house fly and it is stated that the entire island is now almost entirely comparatively free from this pest. Charleroi visitors at Chautauqua last season, where between 30,000 and 40,000 people congregated, noticed that this resort was comparatively free from flies, from the fact that no stables are permitted within the grounds. And strict sanitary precautions are exacted. If no stables were permitted in Charleroi or they were segregated, the fly nuisance could likewise be abolished here. This is the way to eliminate the fly, and when people take the necessary steps, this nuisance will no longer be an annual plague.

medium, the home paper, which is as eagerly read by their customers as are the magazines carrying the advertisements of the mail order houses—continually.

When country merchants wake up to the fact that every dollar's worth of goods sold by mail-order concerns is the direct result of continuous advertising, then take the same methods, systematically and persistently they will soon be selling the goods used by the people in their territory and the M. O. concerns will be forced to quit business for lack of support.

Country merchants have a system of dropping in and out, usually with a little "two-for-five" ad., absent of prices, often descriptive of goods out of season at "cut prices," while the mail-order concerns will carry a liberal sized advertisement, prices and goods reasonable; the journal carrying the advertisement finds its way into the homes of the local man's customers and is there compared with the advertisement in the home paper. If any, and right there the decision is made of whom to buy. The M. O. house has a new and tempting offer every time the journal is received; but the home merchant allows the home paper to enter the same homes and is represented only occasionally.

When business becomes dull the M. O. house jumps into the journals with larger and more attractive ads. than at other times; when business gets dull the home merchant drops out all his ads. in the local paper, leaving it all to the mail order fellows and his customers.

Not one man in ten in business in small towns knows the value of advertising, or how or when to do it, and why—simply because they do not give this most important matter any attention, and just as long as they do not, just so long will the mail order houses prosper and pile up their millions under the nose of the retailer, and 95 per cent of the latter go broke annually.

First Flying Ambulances.

A valued servant and friend of the great Napoleon Dominique Larrey, first established that system of "flying ambulances" which carried the wounded to the rear almost as soon as disabled. The staff numbered about 340 men with four heavy and twelve light two and four wheeled ambulances to each division. Napoleon reviewed this arm of the service with the greatest interest and once exclaimed to Larrey: "Your work is one of the most important conceptions of our age. It will suffice for your reputation."

For the Egyptian campaign Larrey secured the services of 800 qualified surgeons in addition to the regular force. At Alexandria General Figueres was severely wounded, and on his recovery wished to present Napoleon with a splendid Damascus sword. "Yes," said the emperor, "I accept in order to give it the surgeon in chief, by whose exertions your life has been spared." This sword, engraved with the words "Aboukir" and "Larrey," was taken from the great surgeon by the Prussians at Waterloo—Charles Winslow Hall in National Magazine.

The Horrors of Thirst.

In the oasis of Megara, says L. Dow Corington in the Wide World Magazine, we had a first experience of the desert traveler's great enemy—thirst. We were seated in front of a Bedouin chief's tent, our two baby camels enjoying their first drink of water since they had left Cairo, when, from across a sand dune, a Bedouin came staggering and tottering toward us. His eyes were bloodshot, his lips twice their natural size, while his tongue, blue and dry, hung out of his mouth. Evidently he had lost himself, had wandered around for days in search of water and had stumbled upon the oasis in the very nick of time. To allow him to drink would have been his death. In spite of his frantic struggles, he was held by four men, while a fifth allowed a few drops of water to trickle down his throat. It was as though he were a red-hot boiler which would have to be allowed to cool off before being filled if an accident was to be avoided.

Objected to Publicity.

Old Brother Brown had been approached several times by the colored deacons of his church and asked to pay his church dues. He had promised to "pay up" just as soon as he sold a calf which he owned. Several months later he sold the calf. The next Sunday morning at service the congregation sang the old familiar hymn: The calf has never been told Of life so full and free.

Brother Brown, somewhat deaf and conscious of his failure to pay his dues, understood the words to be: The calf has never been sold. But when it's sold he'll pay.

When the hymn was finished the old colored man, very indignant, arose and said: "Bredren and sistabs, I has sold dat calf and heh's yo' ten dollahs! But I didn't ca' 'bout de whole church singin' 'bout it."—National Monthly

A Costly Tuft of Feathers.

On the apex of the crown worn by the Prince of Wales on special occasions is a curious feather or rather tuft of feathers, the top of which is adorned with a gold thread. The value of this feather is estimated at $50,000 and it has the distinction of being the only one of its kind in human possession. Twenty years passed after the first hunter set out to procure the feather before it was attained, and during that period more than a dozen hunters had lost their lives in the quest. The costly tuft is of periwak feathers, and the extraordinary danger incurred in procuring it was due to the fact that the periwak, for some unknown reason, is to be found only in dense jungles in which tigers make their lair.—Chicago Tribune

Turning the Turtle.

Turtle hunting is not without excitement. The method of capture consists of the simple act of turning the turtle on its back. Once in this position it is quite helpless. Its only defense is to cover its cap with sand thrown up by the powerful front legs or flippers. These are brought into action in an instant, and woe betide the captor who has his eyes and mouth open at the moment, for the sand is hurled with great force. When turned over the captive is dragged up the beach to above high water mark, and this is no easy task, for it weighs about four hundredweight.

Premeditated.

"And why do you claim that it was with malice aforethought that the automobile defendant ran down the complainant?"

"On the morning it happened, your honor, I heard him say that he was going to take out his new auto and see if he could not run across a few people he knew."—Houston Post.

A Giddy Girl.

"Is your daughter of a practical turn of mind?"

"No; she is very frivolous. Wants to take cooking lessons instead of perfecting her game of bridge."—Exchange.

His Honest Face.

"Anyways, he has an honest face."

"Honest? You surprise me."

"Yes; it's the only honest thing about him. It shows how dishonest he really is."—Life.

Not Misplaced.

Backer—You got trimmed bad. I thought you said you were confident of the result. Puglist—I was. I knew I'd get licked!—Puck.

PURE FOOD LABELS.

They Were Used in Palestine as Early as the Year 850 B. C.

Professor George A. Reisner of Harvard university discovered among some specimens of earliest Hebrew writing in the excavations of the city of Samaria, in Palestine, a most interesting record of the first pure food laws in history. He also found ancient writings dealing with the first instance on record of the keeping of wines in a government warehouse under bond.

Dating back to the period of King Ahab, 850 B. C., these inscriptions are considered to be one of the greatest finds of the Harvard Palestinian expeditions which delved into the city of Ahab and Omri for three years. They found labels on wine and oil jars. These mention the year in which the wine was laid down in the cellars of the palace storehouse, and they state the vineyard from which the wine came, important facts that are recognized equally well by vintners today.

On the oil jars the label runs, "A jar of pure oil," with the mention of the district from which the oil came. The bits of pottery on which the descriptions were written were not parts of the jars, but were evidently intended to be attached to the necks of the receptacles, just as are labels or seals at the present time.—New York World.

WOOL, SILK AND LINEN.

Tests That Will Determine the Quality of the Fabrics.

If you wish to find out whether the material sold to you as all wool or all silk is really so make a 5 per cent solution of caustic potash and in this boil your sample of silk or wool. If the entire sample is consumed in boiling your material is what it pretends to be. If there is a residue the residue is cotton. The caustic solution consumes the animal fibers.

If you wish to find out whether the silk that seems to be heavy silk is weighted with mineral burn the sample and the ash will show you how much mineral weighting there is. The pure silk will be wholly consumed.

In buying supposed linen goods of towel or suiting dip your sample into concentrated sulphuric acid for two minutes and wash it out carefully. The cotton will have been consumed, the linen will have resisted the action of the acid. This test is one that should be made with precaution, as vitriol is not a thing to be tampered with.—Mary Heaton Vorse in Success Magazine.

The word "exercise" covers a multitude of sins. It is a very loose term used for any form of physical exertion, be it sweeping out a factory, walking home from the office or lifting dumbbells. To say "Exercise is beneficial" is a very inaccurate remark and a very dangerous belief. It is useless to distinguish between right and wrong exercise. As often as not big muscles in arms, chest or legs are a calamity, for they actually shorten life unless the vital organs are proportionately developed to take care of them. Men are constantly wearing out their hearts and arteries with some form of violent work they call "exercise." If continued they would die of arteriosclerosis. A pretty good general rule for these men to go by is to take no form of exercise after they are grown up that they cannot keep on with until they are old men.—J. Edmund Thompson in National Magazine

Needed the Money Badly.

A newspaper man of Washington was approached one morning by a friend who wanted to borrow $5. The newspaper man, assuming an expression of great sorrow, pulled 20 cents out of his pocket and remarked: "I'm sorry, old man, but you're struck me just before pay day, and I'm broke."

Having made this crafty excuse, he, mentally speaking, pinned a gold medal on himself for having evaded the prospective borrower.

"When is your pay day?" asked the friend.

"Tomorrow afternoon," replied the newspaper man.

"All right," said the friend. "I'll come around then."

And he did.—Popular Magazine

Merely a Test Case.

A burly negro came to the doctor of a West African missionary settlement, dragging his reluctant wife with him.

"Doctor, pull one of my wife's teeth out," said he.

The doctor examined the woman's mouth and found only sound teeth.

"Oh, that makes no difference," said the interested negro. "Pull one anyway. If it doesn't hurt her too much then you can pull my tooth that is aching."—Success Magazine

The Borrowing Neighbor.

"Say, John, yer haven't been over my home since my birthday gathern', jest a year ago tomorrow."

"It ain't that I have hard feelin's ag'in you, but you have so confounded many things what belongs ter me that when I come it kind o' makes me homesick."—Pittsburgh Times.

Mistaken Identity.

Walking down St. James' street, Lord Chelmsford was accosted by a stranger, who exclaimed, "Mr. Birch, I believe?"

"If you believe that, sir, you'll believe anything," replied the ex-chancellor as he passed on.—"A Book About Lawyers," by Jefferison.

There is a caution which may defeat itself; there are many crises in our life when safety lies in courage.

A Helpless Invalid

Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

A woman who is sick and suffering, and won't at least try a medicine which has the record of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, is, it would almost seem, to blame for her own wretchedness. Read what this woman says:

Richmond, Mo. — "When my second daughter was eighteen months old I was pronounced a hopeless invalid by specialists. I had a consultation of doctors and they said I had a severe case of ulceration. I was in bed for ten weeks, had sinking spells, and was pronounced to be in a dangerous condition. My father insisted that we try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and brought me six bottles. I soon began to improve, and before it had all been taken I was as well and strong as ever. My friends hardly recognized me so great was the change."—Mrs. Woodson Branstetter, Richmond, Mo.

There are literally hundreds of thousands of women in the United States who have been benefited by this famous old remedy, which was produced from roots and herbs over thirty years ago by a woman to relieve woman's suffering.

Read what another woman says:—

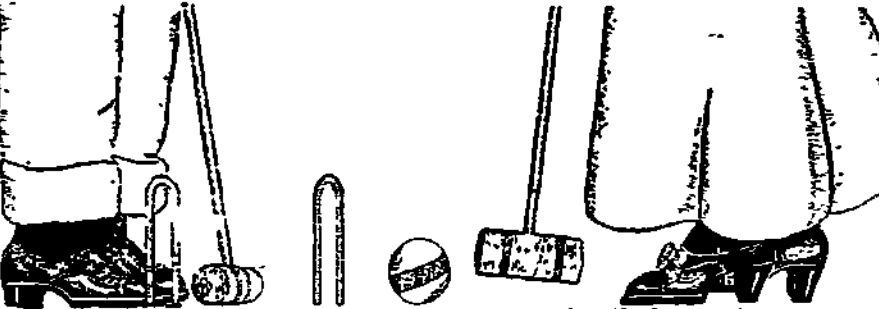

Jonesboro, Texas. — "I have used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for myself and daughter, and consider it unequalled for all female diseases. I would not be without it for anything. I wish every mother in America could be persuaded to use it as it would be less suffering among our sex then. I am always glad to speak a word of praise for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and you are at liberty to use this testimonial."—Mrs. James T. Lawrence, Jonesboro, Texas.

Since we guarantee that all testimonials which we publish are genuine, is it not fair to suppose that if Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had the virtue to help these women it will help any other woman who is suffering from the same trouble?

For 30 years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills. No sick woman does justice to herself who will not try this famous medicine. Made exclusively from roots and herbs, and has thousands of cures to its credit.

If the slightest trouble appears which you do not understand, write to Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass., for her advice—it is free and always helpful.

LOOK OUT FOR THE CARS

DO YOU know of anyone who is old enough to read, who has not seen that sign at a railroad crossing?

If everyone has seen it at some time or other, then why doesn't the railroad let the sign rot away? Why does the railroad bureaucracy continue to keep those signs at every crossing?

Maybe you think, Mr. Merchant, "Most everybody knows my store, I don't have to advertise."

Your store and your goods need more advertising than the railroads need do to warn people to "Look Out for the Cars."

Nothing is ever completed in the advertising world.

The Department Stores are a very good example—they are continually advertising—and they are continually doing a good business.

If it pays to run a few ads round about Christmas time, it certainly will pay you to run advertisements about all the time.

It's just business, that's all. ADVERTISE IN THIS PAPER

TREATS LIFE AS A BASEBALL GAME

Ex-Magician Makes Interesting Address at Local Church

J. C. Macé, an ex-magician, now engaged in Y. M. C. A. and church work at Wellsburg, W. Va. gave a talk at the Methodist Episcopal church Sunday evening on "Life as a Baseball Game." He told how to avoid strikeouts in life by endeavoring to do the right thing always, and gave illustrations of those who had "won the game" and of those who have gone down to defeat. Special music was furnished by the choir under direction of A. H. Bosson.

Former Assemblyman Edward Callaghan, who represented Westmoreland county in the Legislative session of 1887, calls attention to a method by which Charleroi or this community can get a hospital. This is by the act No. 265, enacted that session, which is known as the "Cottage Hospital Law," of which Mr. Callaghan was one of the prime movers, and whose influence and work materially helped to enact it into a law. This act provides for the selection of sites and the erection of State Hospitals in the bituminous and semi-bituminous coal regions of Pennsylvania. For this purpose a commission is appointed to select a site, which must be donated and deeded to the State, with the approval of the Governor.

When this is done the State appropriates $60,000 for the erection of the necessary buildings thereon. Once erected, the hospital may be maintained like any other hospital, by state appropriation, donations, and the receipts of pay patients, although the provisions are that injured persons and emergency cases shall have preference over pay patients.

There are several of these cottage hospitals in the bituminous regions of the State, one of which is at Connelville. Mr. Callaghan is anxious to see a movement started to secure a hospital for Charleroi, now that the Charleroi-Monessen Hospital is no more. He will gladly attend any meeting of citizens called for that purpose and explain the "Cottage Hospital" act, which he helped to draft and enact into law.

COAL COMPANY IS GRATEFUL

General Supt. Jesse K. Johnston desires to thank the Charleroi Fire Department for their loyal and efficient services at the tippie fire Saturday morning. A Terrifying Fear.

When the French artist Benjamin Constant was traveling in Morocco he was invited by the sultan to present himself at court at Fez. The painter's first thought was in regard to his costume. "Court" in Europe was one thing; in Morocco it was likely to prove something different. There was nothing to do, however, but to wear his ordinary evening clothes. He was ignorant of the fact that the Moors look upon black garments as very vulgar, and it was only after his arrival that he learned his mistake. The courtiers smiled openly; worst of all, they sneered. The painter was a man of hasty temper, and suddenly, nettled by their insolence, he closed his opera hat and sprang it open in the faces of the jeering crowd. They scattered, yelling with surprise and fear. The sultan heard the noise and demanded the cause. After he had seen and examined the wonderful hat he gave this oracular opinion:

"If I had lived a hundred years in your country and adopted all your other customs I could never have brought myself to set on my head so hideous a contrivance as that!"

Painfully Explicit.

The proprietor of a certain hotel in Europe once posted up the following warning to his clients:

"Gentlemen who come in this hotel not say anything about their meals they will be charged for and if they should say beforehand that they are going out to breakfast or dinner, and if they say that they not have anything to eat they will be charged, or unless they bring it to the notice of the manager, and should they want not to say anything, they must order the manner for, and not any one else, and unless they not bring it to the notice of the manager, they will be charged for the least thing not, according to hotel rate. And no fuss will be allowed afterward about it, and nothing will be allowed to deduct anything out of it."

After this explicit information there surely could be no excuse for misunderstanding--Boston Globe.

Surprising the Bullock.

In times of crisis and worry a kind word has been known to have surprisingly good results. The unexpectedness of such a word is perhaps the secret of its force. A late book, "On the Wool Track," backs the moral with an anecdote.

A team was working on the Broken Hill road, and a bullock--the Beelzebub of the team--had gone obstinate, and the coach was passing. The whip was swinging, and some apt remarks were just forming on the back of the teamster's tongue when he caught sight of a clerical hat on the front seat and just in time thought better of it. He coughed politely "Ahem--Stranberry," he said, "proceed."

To his obvious astonishment Strawberry proceeded.

The Indian's Vision.

More or less wonderful accounts have from time to time been given of the powers of vision possessed by savage races. During a British anthropological expedition to the Torres Strait the visual faculty of the natives was carefully tested, and from these tests the conclusion was reached that the excellence of vision shown by the savages has a psychological origin--that is to say, it arises from knowing what to look for. When the civilized man acquires familiarity with the environment he can see as far as they can. Thus the power of an Indian to tell the sex of a deer at such a distance that distinguishing features like antlers were invisible was found to rest upon his knowledge of the peculiar gait of the male deer--Scientific American.

Wondrous Tact.

As an example of graciousness and tact Matthew White tells in Munsey's Magazine of a London clergyman who was called on to address an audience of actors. Alluding to the better social status of the players, the clergyman said that in former days it was sometimes customary to brand them as vagabonds and bore a hole in their ears with an awl, that the citizens might thus be forewarned. "And who knows," the clergyman added, "but that it is a survival of an endeavor to hide this mark of indignity that causes some of the actors even today to wear their hair long?"

Bottles and Rags.

"Bottles and rags, bottles and rags!" called out a rag and bone man as he piled his calling. "Why do you always put these words together?" asked a passerby. "Because, madam," replied the man, courteously touching his hat, "wherever you find bottles you find rags!"--London Family Herald.

A Shellfish Thought.

"Funny, isn't it?" "That what?" "That when a fellow's affairs have reached the blue point he never declares that the world is his oyster!"--Judge.

The Ruthless Razor.

Lady Customer (in furniture shop)--What has become of those lovely sideboards you had when I was last here? Salesman (mildly)--I shaved 'em off, madam.

Sympathy.

Cora--Have you seen my new photographs, dear? Every one says they look exactly like me. Dora--What a shame! Can't you get another sitting?

Chiefly the mold of a man's fortune is in his own hands.--Bacon.
